

Vietnam inks novel program to strengthen agro development policies in rural areas

21 March 2023 | News

Aims to strengthen Government and organization's coordination in rural agricultural development by implementing effective policies and guidelines designed earlier for the 2021-2025 period.

Aims to strengthen Government and organization's coordination in rural agricultural development by implementing effective policies and guidelines designed earlier for the 2021-2025 period.

The Standing Committee of the Central Committee of the Fatherland Front (CPV) of Vietnam in collaboration with the Vietnam's Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Development (MARD) held the signing ceremony of the cooperation program to carry out the task of building and developing agriculture and rural areas.

The coordination program aims to strengthen the relationship between the Standing Committee of the Central Committee of the Vietnam Fatherland Front and the Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Development, between the Fatherland Front at all levels and local state management agencies in the field of agriculture and rural areas in effective implementation. directives, resolutions and guidelines of the Party, policies and laws of the State on promoting the strength of great solidarity to build agriculture, farmers and rural areas; The focus is on directing and coordinating the implementation of assigned tasks in the National Target Program on building new rural areas for the 2021-2025 period.

The program also aims to improve the quality and efficiency of implementation of new rural contents and criteria, the Movement "The whole country joins hands to build a new countryside" in association with the Campaign "All people unite to build rural areas". new, civilized city". From there, contributing to raising awareness for cadres, party members and people in the implementation of the Party's guidelines, the State's policies and laws on agriculture, farmers and rural areas with a focus on promoting the role of the Party. people's subjects in new rural construction.

According to Chairman Do Van Chien, the two agencies need to have assessments and orientations on market demand to support people in production and business, create quality products and create motivation to help farmers. people improve their material and spiritual life. Especially for farmers living in the same socio-economic difficulties, ethnic minority areas and mountainous areas, areas with a large number of ethnic minorities living.